Scam Spotter

Unfortunately, kids are no strangers to scams. Whether online, or in their inbox, being able to spot and talk about scams will keep your kids, and their cash, safer.

I want to show you this.

Huh... this looks pretty dodgy! Looks like a scam to me

Talk, early and often

Don't know how to start?
When you spot something scammy, point it out to your kids.

Spot the clues

Let's see if there's any clues.

See how many spelling mistakes there are? That might be a sign it's not safe.

Not sure what to look for? Dodgy URLs, spelling mistakes, and if it's sounding TOO good are all clues.

I'm glad you told me about this.

You haven't done anything wrong. We'll deal with this together.

Listen, help, don't judge

Not sure what to do next?
Contact your child's bank to stop any payments, and check out the Scamwatch website.
